I attended James Madison University for undergrad, and I'm currently in my first year in JMU's Occupational Therapy program. I hope to work with veterans or in pediatrics one day, and I am also passionate about animal assisted therapy and assistive technology. Some of my favorite things to do are hiking, line dancing, ice skating, attending Bible study, anything to do with chocolate, traveling, tubing and relaxing on the beach when not in school!*

Growing up in an active family, I have always loved to be outdoors and to try new activities. I am also pursuing a career in Occupational Therapy, and have a keen interest in working with individuals with intellectual and physical disabilities. Given my field of study, I have also always had the desire to be involved in organizations in which activities are adapted to suit the needs of varying individuals. I love learning from and getting to know individuals who have a unique perspective on life and share a story different from my own. Therapeutic Adventures at Massanutten allows such interactions to take place, all the while facilitating new relationships through a fun activity. I am so excited to be a part of this program and look forward to the learning exchange and to building new friendships.
