

Caleb Andrews

Caleb serves as an instructor/adaptive guide with TA's Bugslinger™ Warriors - Adaptive Fly Fishing Programs serving persons of ALL ages with differing abilities (physical & developmental disabilities), our Disabled Military Heroes - Veterans & their families, and our annual Spring Fly Fling - Fly Fishing & Therapeutic Outdoor Retreat for Women Cancer Survivors. An Eagle Scout, Caleb designed and organized the first ADAPTIVE ANGLERS ON THE FLY - Fly Fishing Camp for Disabled. He is a very passionate fly fishing enthusiast, a talented instructor/guide and a very skilled and prolific fly tier. Caleb loves to Catch & Release BIG fish! He has also volunteered with Therapeutic Adventures - Massanutten Adaptive Snow Sports program in Harrisonburg, VA.

Caleb is a graduate of the University of Tennessee with a bachelors' degree in Engineering and Materials Science. Since his graduation in 2009, Caleb has worked as a part of the University Tennessee's Nonwovens Research Laboratory team. He has also worked as Polymer Research Engineer for Eastern Bioplastics in Mt. Crawford, Virginia, and, most recently, as an Associate Research Scientist with Zeus Industrial Products, in Orangeburg, South Carolina. He currently resides in Charleston, South Carolina. Captain Caleb Andrews is the owner of TAILS OF THE TIDES - Low Country Fishing Charters.

Contact: Email: tailsofthetides@gmail.com Website: www.tailsofthetides.com

